

I subscribe to satalite radio for my parents who live in Canon City CO. They receive ony one broadcast radio station there because of the mountains. That one station broadcasts the same exact tape (unattended I believe) every day. Without satilalite radio this would be their only option. It helps them to be able to get the weather via satalite. They don't have much trafic to report on in Canon City but they do get weather rather regularly. Let them have it.
